Dear Ray,

Sorry I've been so long with this.
The end of ten was very rushed.

Whenever I (or anyone else e.g.
Nye) write on Wittgenstein's philosophy,
independent facts & elements come from him.
I'm prepared to quarrel with him about philosophy, if necessary, but not about the facts of his life.

So all I do is to ~~send~~ make no comment on your typescript but
to send what appeared in the Cambridge Review when W. was elected Professor.

If you want other facts about him, I think you should write to him (A letter to Trinity would be forwarded)

Yours ever

Dear Ray,

About the ~~date~~ ~~of~~ ~~the~~ ~~reason~~ why L.W. came to Cambridge in the first instance — you might ask R.E. Moore (Prof. G.E.M. 86 Chesterton Rd. Cambridge).
He <sup>G.E.M.</sup> returned to Cambridge in 1911, so will have been in Cambridge at the time.
(Moore doesn't leave his house much — he's 75 — but he writes letters easily, & I expect would like to be asked.)

I didn't mention JMK in the 1939 Cambridge Review vote (which you may have guessed that I wrote). Because JMK had just taken part (& if rumour is correct, a strong part) in electing LW
to the Chair.

Yours ever

Richard Braithwaite
