PROFESSOR IRVING FISHER
460 PROSPECT STREET

December 15, 1926.

Mr. R. F. Harrod,
Oxford, England.

Dear Mr. Harrod:

Your name has been given me as one of the rising generation of economists likely to make real contributions to the subject.

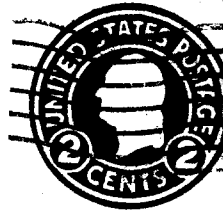

I am writing to you, and a limited number of others interested in economic science, to offer a complimentary copy of what was originally my doctor's thesis of 1892, "Mathematical Investigations in the Theory of Value and Prices", a new edition of which was published last year. A few copies are left.

If you would care to have a copy will you please let me know. The only price of the booklet is that you agree to read it!

Very sincerely yours,

Irving Fisher
