My dear Mr. Harrod,

I had so much to do in these two weeks since my return to Berlin that I could not yet write you. I hope you do not believe that this silence is a sign of having forgotten the very nice and interesting time I passed in Oxford. I am indeed very thankful to you and I shall be really glad if I could do anything for you.

Did you get the little pamphlet on monetary theory, which I sent you? Prof. Bonn asked me to give you his best wishes. I am working now on international investments on the one side and on German credit policies on the other and hope to send you soon again a little paper.

Kindeste regards,

Yours very sincerely,
