Herr Künigstr. 71

Dear Mr. Hamrod!

I was very rejoiced in your letter and being not so lazy as you felt when writing it I try to answer in english. Since I (and you) parted from Freiburg (I wish, I had not!) things have changed in a manner surprising even for us who have been accustomed to somewhat in these last five years! As a symbol you can take, that we paid the dollar ten millions of mark on the first of september and two hundred millions to-day, in consequence of the down-break of the passive resistance, which we paid for as we are ascertained only now and as you perhaps already know - forty millions of goldmark every day (material for your lecture concerning money!). But I can't help saying, that the figure Great Britain played in the whole affair was neither very fair nor successful for herself. But I would be glad to learn your opinion about that matter.

Did you hear anything from Mister Rebel (whom - though, mischievous and bad mannered" - I liked much)? His situation in these ^{times} is very difficult, as he doesn't get subvention almost from nobody and people can't get money by philosophising nowadays.

How do you do yourself? Are you ready with the preparations for your lectures or did you already begin them?

Myself, I seek most zealously for a position to earn money (without - till now - finding anyone), because in these hard times (1 $ = 200 000 000 M) my father can't afford all I need.

I hope you will write me soon and in detail (write in english, not in german - you will write more than),
how you do and what success you have by your lecture,
and if you want anything from Germany (books, newspapers or such like) I will be very glad to procure it for you.

Please give my best compliments to your mother!

Yours very sincerely

Dieter Stulz

A somewhat impudent solicitation: I would be very grateful, if you would be so kind as to send me occasionally some english newspapers or periodicals you don't need any more. In Germany people (better: I) can't pay them nowadays.

Beste Grüße
Herta Stulz.
